

First aid techniques and civil emergency management

Blended Intensive Programme “Alexandru Ioan Cuza” University, Iași, Romania

Call for partners

Objectives

- To increase participants' level of knowledge and skills regarding the first aid techniques and methods;
- To increase participants' level of knowledge and skills regarding how to deal with emergency situations or situations that endanger their safety on campus or on the street (natural disasters, medical emergencies, violence on campus, cases of drug or alcohol addiction, etc);
- To meet and exchange experience and best practices with experts from National Agency against Trafficking, County Police Inspectorate, Combating Organized Crime Directorate, National Anti-Drug Agency, Special Telecommunication Service, County Gendarmerie Inspectorate, Inspectorate for Emergency Situations;
- To develop a permanent system of collaboration between the staff involved in ensuring security in universities, the students and the teaching/administrative staff working in the university.

Where?

"Alexandru Ioan Cuza" University of Iasi, Romania

When?

17-21.02.2025.

Who should attend?

- Students from any field of education
- Teaching and administrative staff interested in the topic

The program will include:

- presentations
- workshops
- practical demonstrations and meetings with experts from the Inspectorate for Emergency Situations, Fire brigade, National Anti-drug Agency, Police, Labor protection Department, hospitals

- study visits
- networking activities
- cultural events.

Learning outcomes

- Increased level of knowledge and skills: Participants will gain an increased level of knowledge and skills regarding first aid provision. They will also get a deeper understanding regarding how to respond to emergency situations (natural disasters, medical emergencies, violence on campus, cases of drug or alcohol addiction, etc);
- Broadening the horizons and development of lasting professional relationships through access to a wide range of expertise and insights from specialists in different fields.
- Development of transversal skills such as communication skills, language skills, critical thinking, problem solving, intercultural skills.
- Broadening the network of contacts: the workshops and group discussions will provide participants with networking opportunities and connections with relevant people.

Benefits

3 ECTS Credits

Language used

English language

The event also includes coffee breaks and social activities organized by the program coordinators, providing opportunities for networking and informal discussions.

Participating students can access affordable accommodation and meals on the university campus, conveniently located near the event venue.